Sheraton Waikiki celebrates the “12 Days Of Christmas” in Sandsational Style

Koi in the pond, poke boards, ukulele, beanbags in the pool, surfing Santas, swimming turtles, hula lessons, flower lei, pool towels, kalua pigs, mai tais at RumFire and a menehune with a Christmas tree...are all part Sheraton Waikiki’s sandsational holiday display this year. In what is the largest sand sculpture ever created at the hotel, the display is a festive countdown depicting 12 Days of Sheraton Waikiki Christmas.

Sandsational Sand Sculpting, a company based in Melbourne, Fla., has put the finishing touches on the second of two holiday sculptures at the hotel. According to Jill Harris of Sandsational, the first one was completed on November 9, uses 8 tons of sand, and portrays Santa enjoying mai tais at hotspot RumFire, as well as a menehune with a Christmas tree as the second and first day of Christmas, respectively. These are in the main lobby, while the second sculpture in the Sheraton Waikiki Porte Cochere took 50 tons of sand and features the third through 12th days of Christmas.

This year, Harris and Thomas Koet, who have been the main architects of the sand sculptures at Sheraton Waikiki, were joined by another artist, Susanne Ruseler, for the larger sculpture and both sculptures took more than 250 hours over nearly three weeks to complete.

Since 2006, Sandsational has been creating visually stunning masterpieces in the Sheraton Waikiki lobby. Past sculptures have been a tribute to the Mālama Honua voyage by the Hōkūle’a canoe and a Samoan warrior’s knife dance, performed before battle with the nifo oti, or “tooth of death” with the sculpture titled “Fireknife Dancers.” This past year featured Nāmaka, the sea goddess, and older sister of fire goddess Pele.

“Being on Waikiki Beach during the holidays is a dream for many and these sand sculptures capture the fun and magic of the most wonderful time of the year,” says Area General Manager Kelly Sanders, who is credited with bringing Sandsational to the Sheraton Waikiki, which remains the only hotel in Hawaii to feature sand sculptures of any kind.

The sand sculptures are huge draws for the thousands of guests who come to Sheraton Waikiki for holiday events and gatherings. The sculptures are expected to remain at the hotel through early 2018 when a new sculpture will be made in the lobby.

Hilton Hawaiian Village's Chef Joseph "JJ" Reinhart to compete in World's Largest Culinary Competition

Chef JJ's award-winning chili recipe qualifies for the World Food Championships

Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort is proud to announce that its very own Chef de Cuisine Joseph "JJ" Reinhart will be competing in the World Food Championships (WFC), the largest competition in Food Sport, where grand champions of previous events convene for a chance at winning the ultimate food crown and a share of hundreds of thousands of dollars in prize money. Reinhart will specifically compete in the World Open Chili Championship, one of 10 events within the WFC.

Reinhart recently took first place at the inaugural Chef's Chili Challenge at the 2017 Made in Hawaii Festival, an automatic qualifying event for the World Open Chili Championship. Now, he will be representing team Hawaii in the chili category with his winning recipe for green papaya and coconut venison chili at the WFC Nov. 8-12, 2017. Reinhart will be competing for $10,000 awarded to the winner of the chili category. The top 10 performers in each category will move on to a high-stakes Final Table event in April 2018 to compete for ultimate bragging rights and a $100,000 prize purse.

Heading into its sixth season, this year's WFC boasts more than 500 teams registered, making it the largest culinary competition on the planet. Reinhart will be competing on Team Hawaii along with Executive Chef James Aptakin of Turtle Bay Resort, who will be participating in the seafood category and is also the reigning 2016 World Seafood Champion. Yim Martinez, a graduate of the Kapiolani Community College's culinary programs, will also be representing the school on Team Hawaii in the steak category.

All of the Team Hawaii chefs will be using Hawaii products and ingredients to help showcase the bounty that the islands have to offer.

"It was a privilege being recognized at the Made in Hawaii Festival among so many respected and talented local chefs and food vendors," said Reinhart. "I'm looking forward to representing Hawaii in the chili category and hope it will alert more of the national audience to the great culinary heritage of our Hawaiian Islands."

DECEMBER PAU HANA HAWAIIAN NIGHTLY ENTERTAINMENT IN THE ROYAL GROVE, 6-7PM

Thursdays Waipuna

Waipuna's eclectic musical backgrounds and similar musical taste has led to the development of a unique sound. After the release of their critically-acclaimed first album, Mana`o Pili, the duo, now trio, has been blessed with the opportunity to share their music with Hawai'i and beyond.

Tuesdays Lehua Kalima & Shawn Pimental

Lehua is a member of the award-winning group, Nā Leo Pilimehana. After 19 albums and 20 Na Hoku Hanohano awards, they continue to record and perform throughout the world. Shawn Pimental is a Hōkū award-winning producer who has worked with many familiar names in the studio as a musical director, including Nā Palapalai, Keali'i Reichel, and more.

Fridays Kūpaoa

The combined talents of Kellen Paik and Lihau Hannahs Paik embody the name they've chosen for their musical presence – Kūpaoa – suffused with fragrance, or heady with scent. Their talents are many, for they infuse musical ability and charm into two sweet, rich voices to offer up an inviting blend, like a perfume that can be spicy, soothing, and alluring all at once.

Saturdays Hula Kahiko

A performance of ancient Hawaiian dance by a local hālau hula (school of Hawaiian dance). This month we feature Nā Pualei o Likolehua, Kumu Hula Niuli'i Heine.

Wednesdays Malu Productions

Malu Productions is an award-winning company that specializes in custom show presentations and services. Shows are fast paced, interactive, and sure to entertain audiences of all ages and cultural backgrounds.

HELUMOA HALE

Visit or call, 808-922-2299, for the most updated information about our cultural lessons and special events, receive a one-of-a-kind gift with an eligible purchase, or relax in our Heritage Room and learn about the rich history of Helumoa. He mai!

KA HALE Ī 'O KAHALA HĀLAU

Leimomi I Maldonado began her study of hula at the age of 8 with Maiki Aiu Lake and continued her training in later years with Elizabeth Kalama. The hālau reflects the hō`ihi (respect) felt for these influential teachers as well as its connection to the hala as the symbolic flower of the school. Kumu Maldonado welcomes haumāna (students) from preschool to kūpuna to learn the dances of the Hawaiian Islands. The philosophy of the hālau is a saying passed on by Leimomi's former Kumu Hula, the late Aunty Maiki Aiu Lake: "May your love of Hawai'i grow through the art of the Hula." Live performance on Saturday, 12/9, at 3PM.

10TH ANNUAL KA `IKENA HO`OULU A PAUAHI
