Waikiki Safe and Sound - Month Two

Waikiki continues to see positive results in the second month of Safe and Sound Waikiki. The Honolulu Police Dept (HPD) has arrested more chronic offenders. The courts have also begun to recognize the problem, recently, adding geographic restrictions to five sentences. However, it is five from eighteen such requests from the prosecuting attorney.

As Waikiki resident chronicler John Deutzman noted, "Attempts to secure geographic restrictions for nuisance offenders have been challenging. The Public Defender has been successful in convincing the judges that the defendants "live" in Waikiki and/or receive services in Waikiki. Judges are reluctant to ban nuisance offenders from an entire community."

Mr. Deutzman said, "Police have done an outstanding job making arrests (up 65%) and in particular making felony arrests that are solid and are filed (up 155%). A total of 8 alleged drug dealers who were reportedly working the pavilions on the makai side of Kalakaua Ave are facing serious felony charges."

Jennifer Nakayama, chair of the Community Safe and Sound Waikiki steering committee said, "Safe and Sound Waikiki is off to a good start. The cooperation of all the agencies: HPD, City Prosecutor, city agencies and community organizations has led to a multi prong approach to making Waikiki a safer place. We have been able to gain momentum in imposing geographic restrictions on habitual criminals and we are seeing an increase in enforcement across the board from felonies to misdemeanors."

The Kūhiō Beach Park physical improvements promised by Mayor Blangiardi at the September 7, 2022 news conference have been mostly implemented. A derelict public phone and water fountain have been removed, a denuded portion of the park ground next to the pavilion has been tilled and reseeded by City Parks. The pavilion itself has had the damaged fencing removed and will soon have a regular presence from the Waikīkī Business Improvement District Association (WBIDA) information and hospitality personnel.

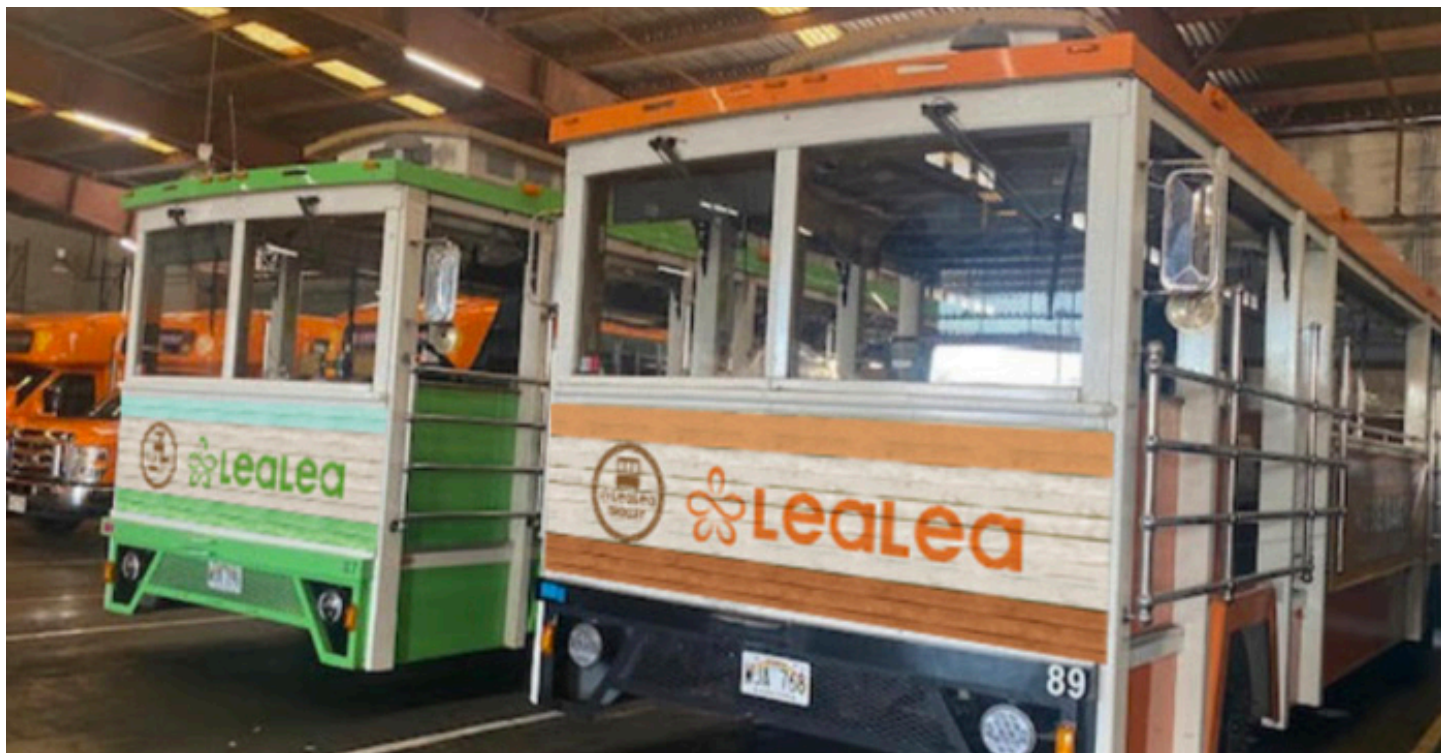

Rick Egged, President of the Waikīkī Improvement Association (WIA) and vice chair of the Community Safe and Sound Committee said, “Safe and Sound Waikīkī is off to a good start but much more needs to be done. As a community we must come together to make Waikīkī and all of Hawaii safer. This means more housing, more treatment programs for substance abuse and mental illness, more consequences for breaking the law.”

Mufi Hannemann, President of the Hawaii Lodging & Tourism Association (HLTA), will convene a Visitor Public Safety Conference on November 17th at the Hawaii Convention Center. The conference will focus on Safe and Sound Waikīkī. Former Mayor Hannemann has led the community’s efforts to increase public safety which has led to the creation of Safe and Sound Waikīkī.

His Relaunches Lealea Trolley Buses

DEPART FROM: ROYAL HAWAIIAN CENTER. OPERATED BY E NOA CORPORATION

Long-anticipated LEALEA trolleys are finally coming back to the streets of Waikiki! (Starting Nov 1, 2022). A husband of the couple who owns a timeshare visits Hawaii yearly from Japan and always uses HIS Trolleys to get around the town. "We are so thankful and thrilled to see they are coming back. It has been over two years. I can feel it; there is a sense of optimism in the air."

HIS, which opened its doors in 1980, believe the excitement of traveling to a new destination is the amazement of seeing and experiencing new things for the first time. This is the true purpose of travelling. There have been so many changes during the COVID pandemic that our returning guests can't help but feel the adventure of travelling.

The LEALEA Shuttle Service departs from the heart of Waikiki: The Royal Hawaiian Center, which also opened its doors in 1980. The center has seen many changes over its 40+ years. What hasn't changed is their commitment to sharing Hawai'i's Spirit of Aloha with the world.

The LEALEA trolleys will run from the Royal Hawaiian Center seven days a week from 9:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. The first route covers between Royal Hawaiian Center to Ala Moana Center every 75 minutes. The second route covers Royal Hawaiian Center to Bishop Museum every 105 minutes.
