Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort Completes Rainbow Tower Renovations

The Resort Completes upgrades for the 42-Year-Old Tower During its 50th Anniversary Year, and Introduces a New Package to Celebrate the Renovations

Hilton Hawaiian Village Waikiki Beach Resort's $45 million makeover of the iconic Rainbow Tower is complete. To celebrate this milestone, the resort is offering a new "Fireworks over the Rainbow" room package that includes oceanfront accommodations along the widest stretch of Waikiki Beach.

The transformation of all 800 rooms began in April with each room receiving a total makeover, including all furnishings, carpet, wall covering, bathrooms, tubs, fixtures, drapery and artwork. Architect and designer Ann Matsunami of Pacific Asia Design Group used the colors of Hawaii as the basis of developing themes for the new rooms: the warm and vibrant colors of the sun, the glow of a day at the beach represented by orange and golds. The look and feel is contemporary and welcoming, with tropical textures on clean shapes. The corridors on all guest-room floors, three through 31, have been upgraded with new light fixtures, wall coverings, carpet and artwork. Elevators lobbies also received new elevator door faces and frames, new flooring, lighting and wall treatment.
